

What is the EU's energy policy for Latvia?

The current EU policy dictates that Latvia must increase the share of renewable energy in its final energy consumption and Latvia has plans to reach 50 percent by 2030 according to the EU's National Energy and Climate Action Plan 2030. Much of Latvia's heat and electricity still comes from imported natural gas.

How can Latvia reduce its reliance on foreign sources of energy?

The Latvian government is interested in diversifying supplies and in developing more local resources to reduce the country's reliance on foreign sources of energy. To reach these targets, government agencies and entrepreneurs have discussed options to move beyond hydropower into wind and biomass power plants.

Is Latvia interested in wood biomass?

Over half of Latvia is covered by forest, so wood biomass presents excellent potential for further development. In addition to renewable energy projects, Latvia remains interested in pursuing a possible liquefied natural gas (LNG) terminal to enhance its energy supply source diversity.

Is there a wind park in Latvia?

Many stretches of the Baltic coast have wind conditions suitable for wind parks, especially offshore. Over half of Latvia is covered by forest, so wood biomass presents excellent potential for further development.
